War Moratorium

Nearly 2,250 student protesters jammed the mall in front of the Samuelson Union Building October 15, to join a one-half mile walk around Ellensburg for peace in Vietnam.

The Moratorium committee composed a letter to President Nixon in protest of the war. The letter was signed by over two thousand members of the student body of Central Washington State College, expressing their desire to see the war come to an early end.

As they walked in the march, one man expressed the thoughts of all those who participated in the event. "Organized events like our march show the whole nation that people are tired of the war—we want out."

San Francisco Mime Troupe displayed a revolutionary theatre in which they presented Bertolt Brecht's "Congress of the Whitewashers or Turandot." The production was received in McConnell Auditorium with a standing ovation which led to a work shop in the Grupe Conference Center. The members of the troupe gave their personal interpretation of the purpose of the Mime Troupe.

When the Mime Troupe formed in 1959, they decided to perform along the guidelines of "commedia dell' arte," a popular form of entertainment during the Italian Renaissance. The Troupe usually performs at colleges, universities, and parks, relying solely on the donations of their audiences.

Kyung Wha Chung

One of the many talented professional performers who came to Central's campus this year was Kyung Wha Chung, a violinist.

She has a phenomenal collection of major headlines, including debuts with six major symphony orchestras and a television debut on the Ed Sullivan Show.

Her concert in Ellensburg on November 4 was sponsored by Ellensburg Community Concert Association.

A youth, a clown who jumps with high spirits and screams with laughter when he falls, knows he'll rise once more and try again.

Youth is "a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions. It is a freshness of the deep things in life." It is the determination to conquer timidity, and the curiosity to find out "what next?"

Students from seven Washington high schools and a troupe of ten actors, singers, and musicians from Central performed "Salad Days" on January 16-17 in McConnell Auditorium.

Black o m e d y

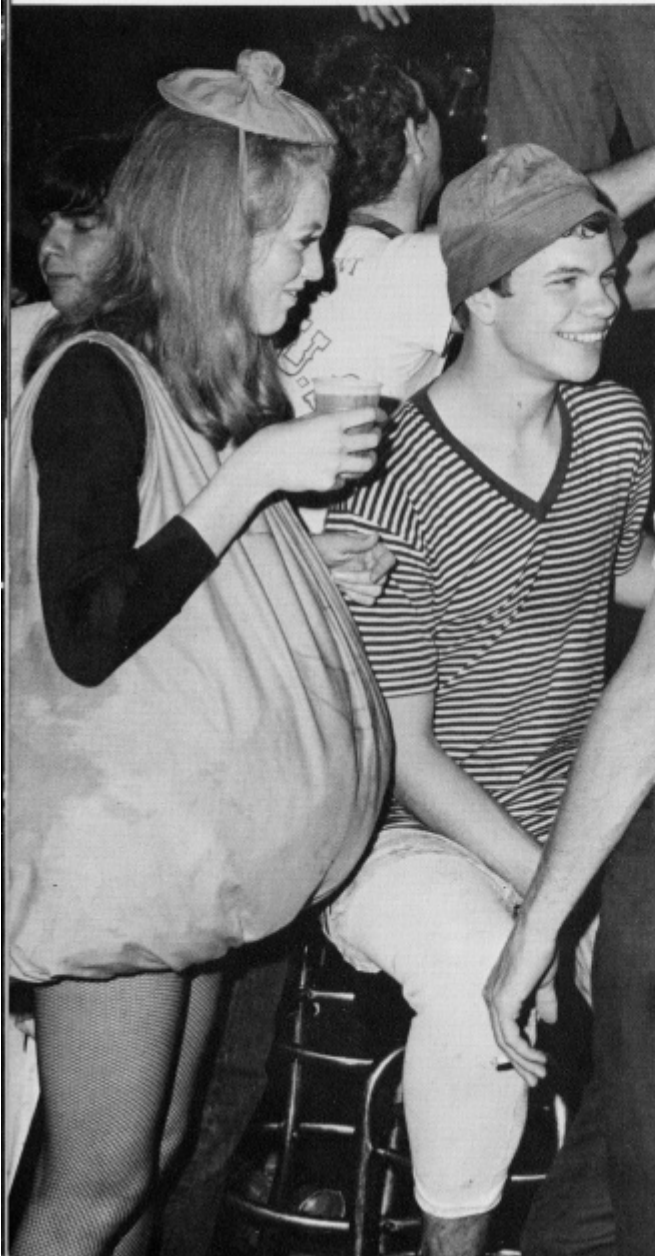

CWSC Drama Department presented "Black Comedy" November 13-15 and 20-22 in McConnell Auditorium.

The lighting of the play was just exactly reversed from actuality. At the opening, the stage and auditorium were in total darkness because the apartment lights were supposed to be on.

When the lights were out in the apartment, the auditorium lights actually came on so the audience could see what was happening.

Nighty Night

Crawling through a tunnel of love, over a hundred students were trying to find the mattress covered floor of Muzzall's lounge.

Three bands piped music during a sun-down pajama party sponsored by the men of Muzzall.

Winter Elections . . . Politics in Confusion

The Nominating Convention's elections of 1970 were the tightest races in campus history. A field of five candidates ran for student body president, flooding the campus with campaign information and loyal supporters.

Hard work paid off in the confetti-filled convention hall of McConnell Auditorium as supporters held mass rallies for their presidential hopefuls and three were selected for the final elections.

Las Vegas Night

Clicking chips, rolling dice, and whirring roulette wheels filled the new SUB ballroom on February 14 for Las Vegas Night.

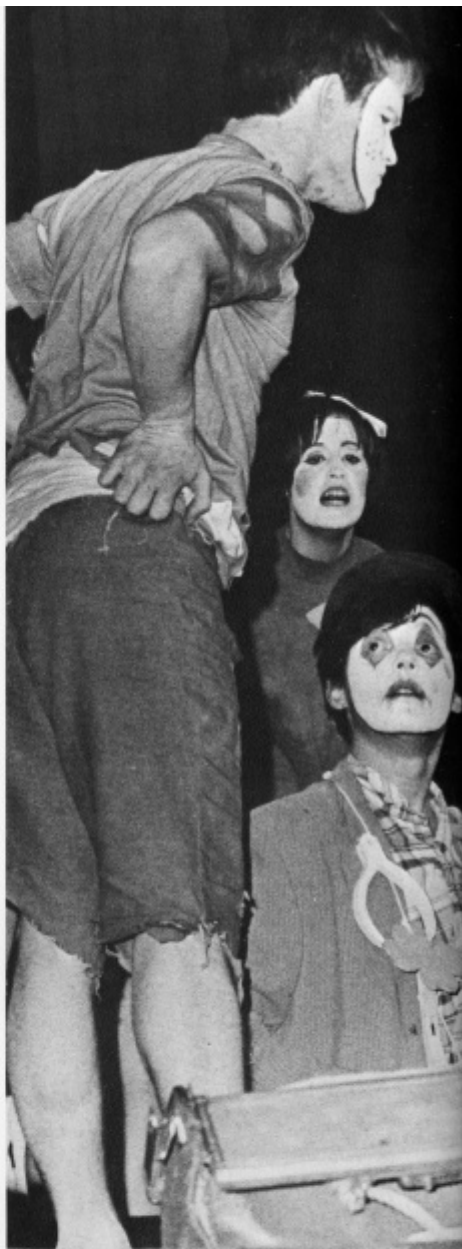

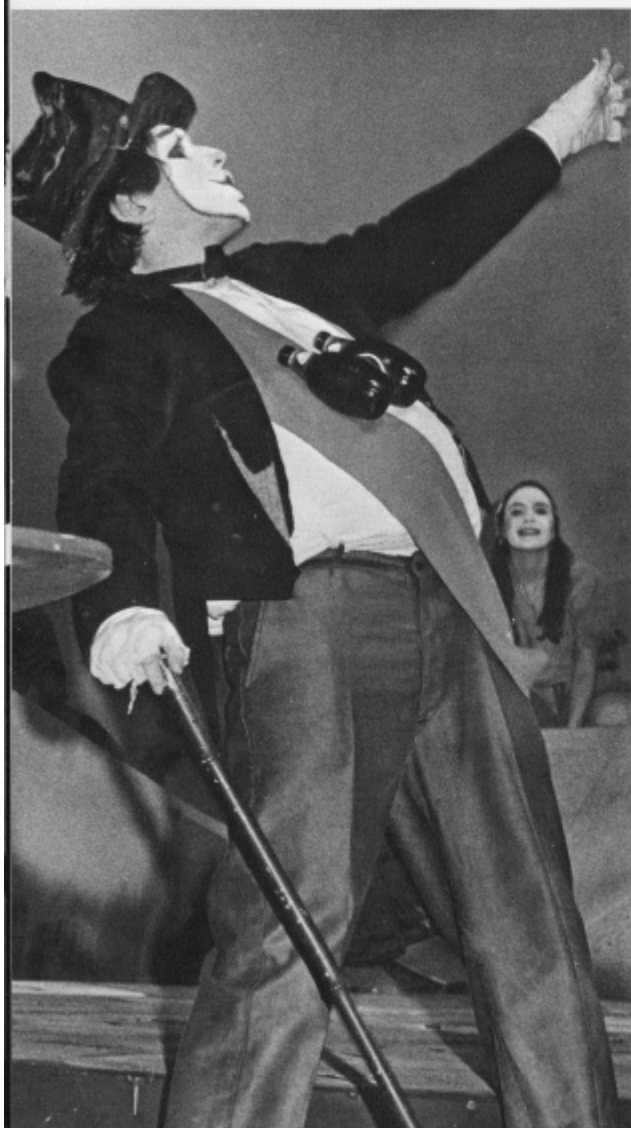

The annual program was featured by Sue Lombard and Stephens-Whitney Halls. The activity presented the full spectrum of Las Vegas entertainment: gambling, girls, and dancing.

The "Gas Company" provided the live music that set the theme for a night in Las Vegas.

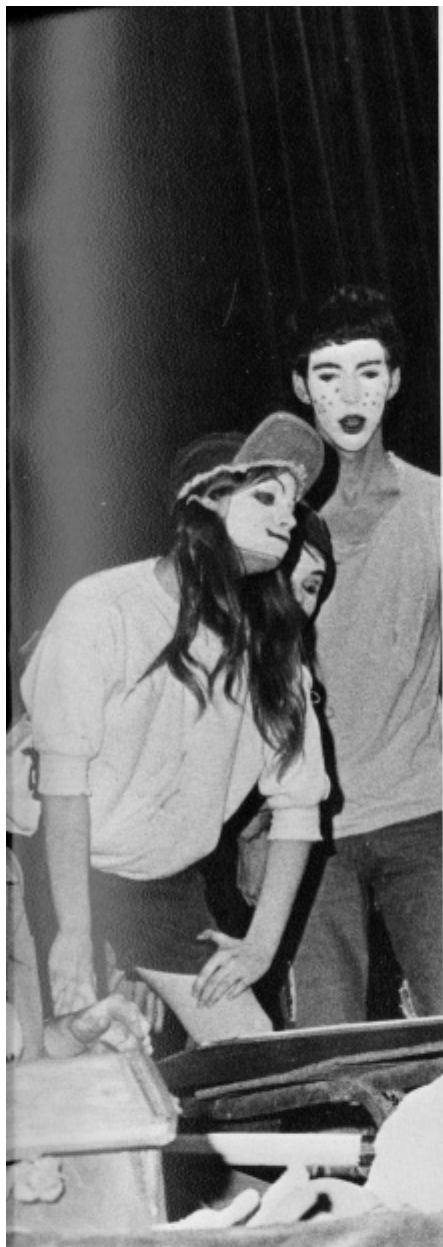

Roar of the Grease Paint

"Roar of the Greasepaint — Smell of the Crowd," a musical directed by Dr. Milo L. Smith, was presented at McConnell Auditorium, February 12-14 and 16-18.

Smell of The Crowd

The play's serious undercurrent of social comment was relieved, enhanced, and at times, obscured by sprightly routines, high and low humor, and a collection of "rousing and witty" songs.

Opening

The new expansion of the Samuelson Union Building had its first look at Central Students during the grand opening ceremonies held on January 24.

The new addition has two ballrooms, a larger cafeteria to take the place of the Cage, several lounges, game rooms, and a number of meeting rooms.

John

"The wildest man in new blues," John Mayall, shook the walls of Nicholson Pavilion February 17 in a performance of reputedly the finest blues in the world.

A 35-year-old Englishman, Mayall began his career in 1956 when he formed the Powerhouse Four in London.

A great group entrepreneur, Mayall organized the popular Blues Breakers in 1962.

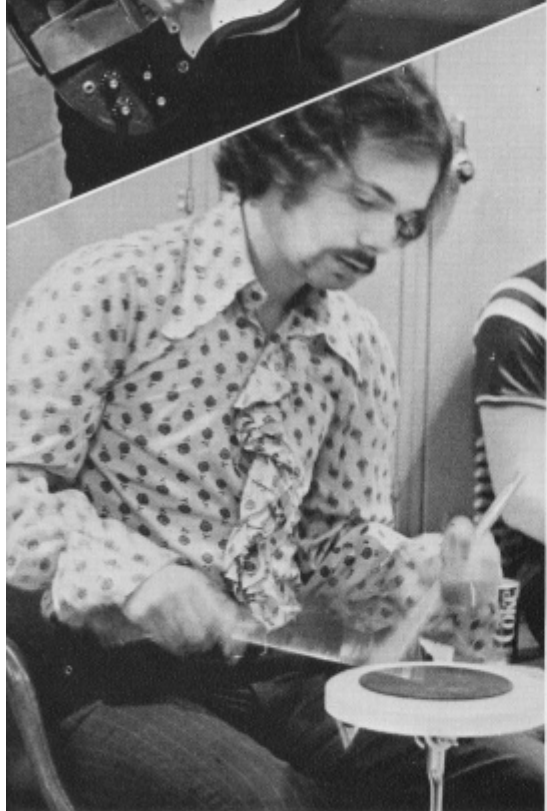

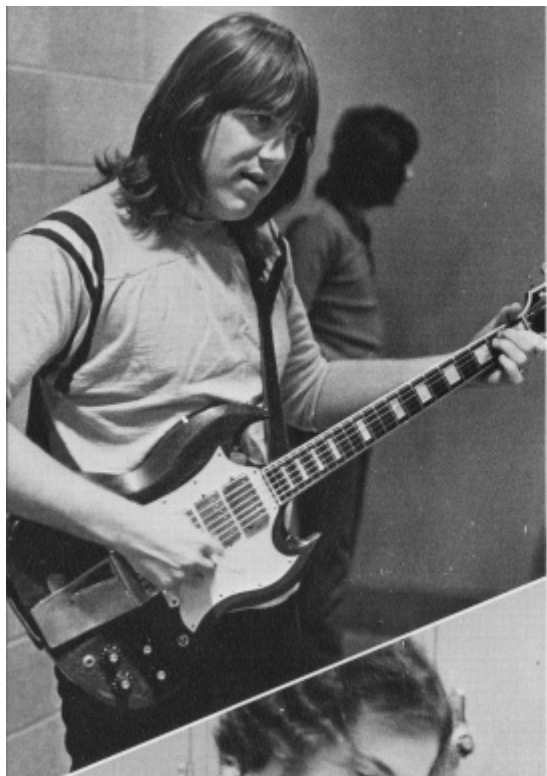

Mayall

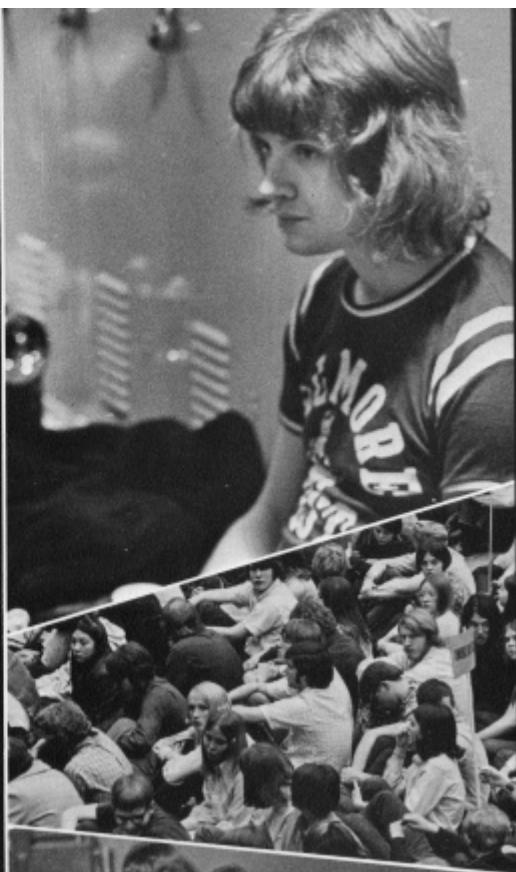

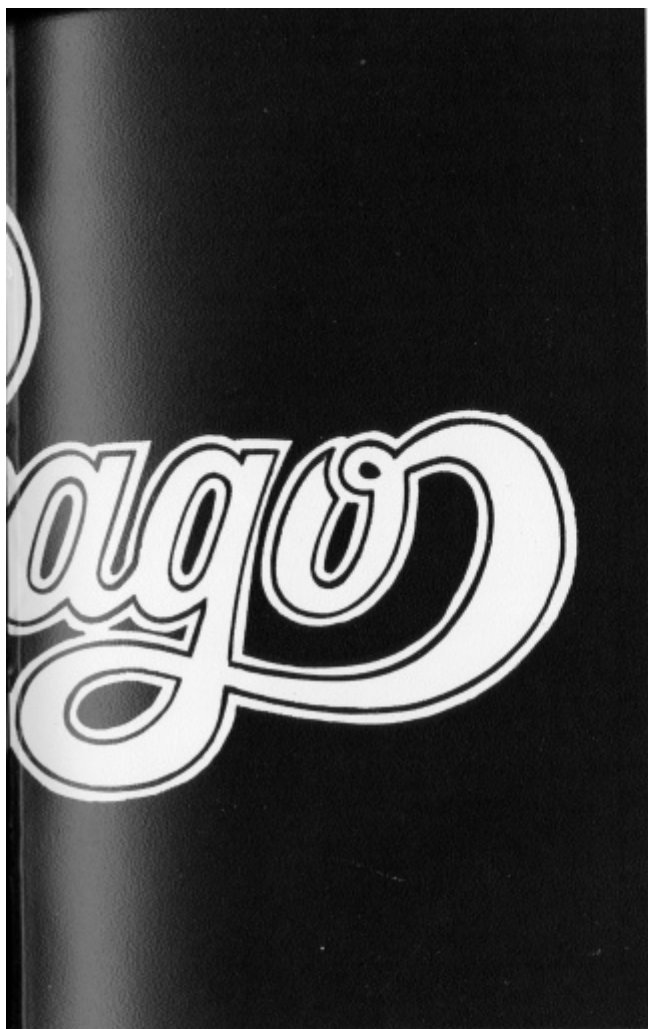

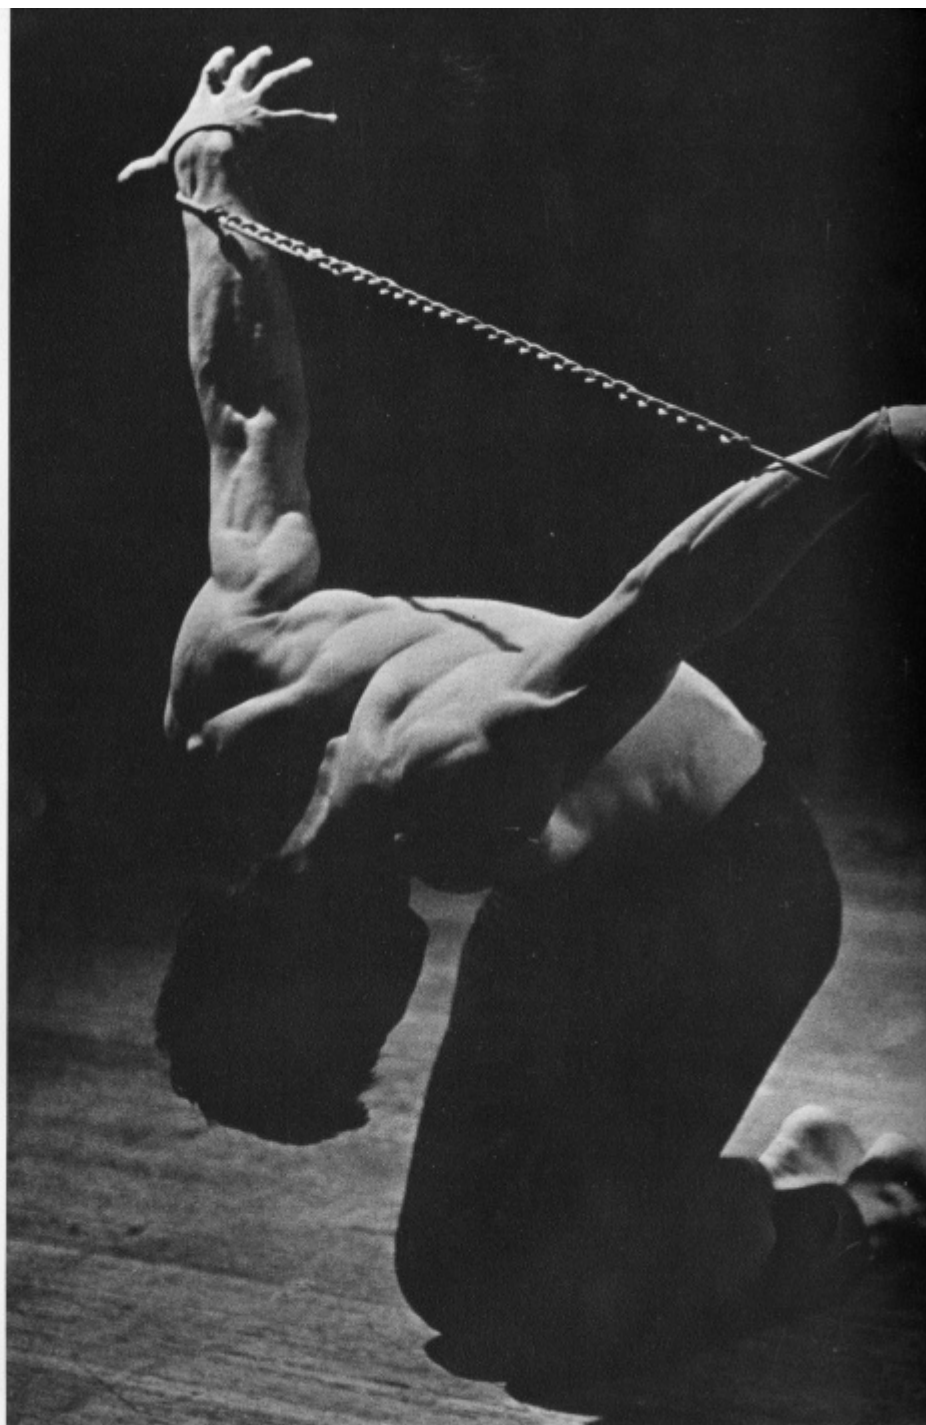

Mayall is considered by some as the "blues authority" of this century. However Mayall considers his fame secondary to his devotion to the art of music. Money is the least of his concerns. Mayall believes that people who really enjoy and understand the concept of blues rock will never drop away — they will stick no matter what happens. Performing with Mayall were Zephyr and Duster Bennett.

Relationships In the Year

Lorenzo Milam, a Saturday columnist for the Seattle Post Intelligencer, was the first speaker on the agenda of the Fall Symposium. Milam spoke on "A Geriatric Approach to Sexual and Social Mores in the Year 2000."

This Harvard graduate self-imposed an exile to Spain due to bureaucratic static after he applied for an FM radio license in 1959. But, in 1962, he received the license and established the station KRAB, which soon became well-known for its non-commercial, controversial and free-form broadcasting.

In 1968, he resigned from radio to devote himself to lecturing, writing and teaching literature at Monroe State Reformatory.

The topic of Dr. John Thomas was, "The Immorality of Too Many People." Dr. Thomas is a professor of systematic biology at Stanford University.

Dr. Thomas, born on March 26, 1928, received his Bachelor of Science degree from the California Institute of Technology in 1948, and his Ph.D. from Stanford in 1959. Since then he has written numerous papers and two books.

Thomas finds a natural transition from his professional fields of interest in botanical taxonomy and ecology to such human concerns as population, environmental deterioration and conservation.

Seattle's Rabbi Levine, a fourth symposium speaker, spoke on "Human Relations in the Year 2000."

Born in Poland, Rabbi Levine graduated from the Hebrew Union College in 1942. Since 1942, he has served at the Temple De Hirsch in Seattle.

He received the B'nai B'rith Award of "Man of the Year" for service to inter-group understanding and improvement of human relationships.

"You and I and the ——— (Between??)" was the topic discussed by an assemblyman in the California Legislature, John Vasconcellos.

Born in 1932, Vasconcellos received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Santa Clara in 1959. He served as travel secretary to Gov. Edmund G. "Pat" Brown from 1960-1961. His ambitious activities won him the "Outstanding Young Man of America" award in 1965.

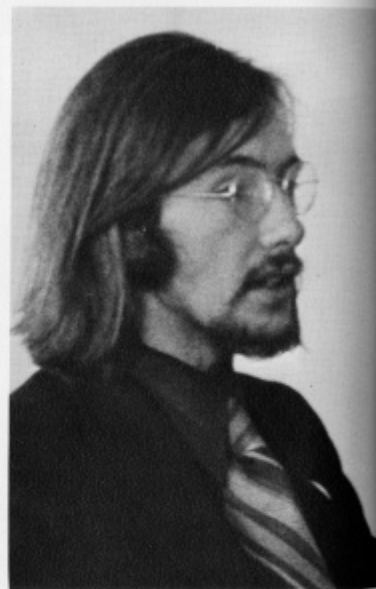

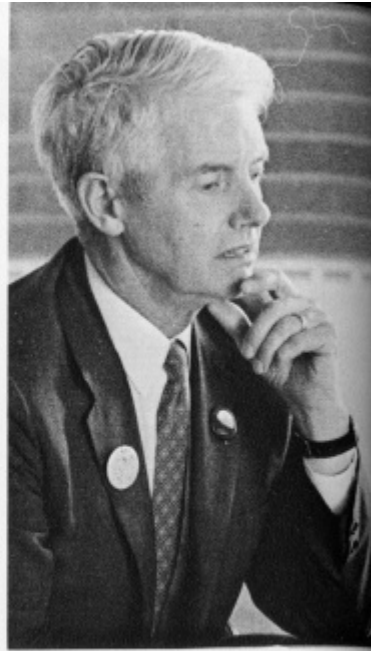

Vasconcellos initiated communication between college students and State Legislators in 1969 and serves on many committees related to higher education, campus disturbances, instruction and teacher-relations.

Ecology-A Crisis In Man's Environment

Central's Spring Symposium, "Give Earth a Chance," was presented and discussed by five featured speakers and several commentators during the three day event, April 9-11.

The problems of environment and ecology were discussed on the basis of philosophy, economics, and political issues that are saying, "Give Earth a Chance."

The speeches in the symposium were followed by several colloquia held in different dorms. Each colloquium was led by one speaker and one commentator who spoke on the issues of ecology that are affecting the stability of man in his environment.

Sidney Callahan greeted her audience with the topic, "Sex Revolution and the Emancipation of Women."

Dr. Viktor Frankl, noted psychoanalyst, spoke on "Man's Search for Meaning" at Hertz Recital Hall.

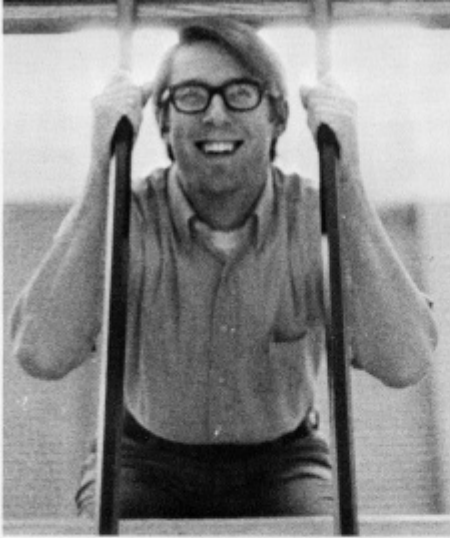

Dr. Richard D. Knudsen started his lecture with a question, "When does society have the right to infringe its laws on the individual or groups?"

To Work With Others . . .

ASC Officers

Involvement in affairs outside the college community was one of the main issues student government dealt with during the last year. The ASC sponsored the October Vietnam Moratorium and lent some financial support to allow students to attend the November Moratorium in San Francisco.

This year saw the ASC working in Olympia urging passage of the Nineteen-Year-Old Vote, legislation to control environmental pollution, and bills favoring higher education.

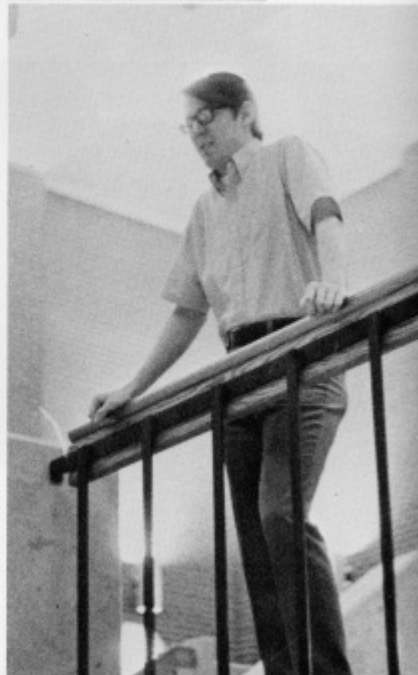

Under the leadership of Tim Wing, many outdated policies pertaining to students in dormitories were abolished. Women's Hours were done away with; a visitation policy for the dormitories was established, and use of alcohol in the dorms by students 21 and older was allowed for the first time.

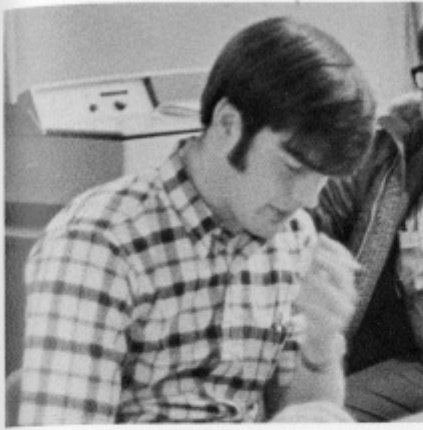

During the Fall Quarter elections, a new Constitution was adopted by the student body. In addition to changing the name from Student Government Association to Associated Students of Central Washington State College, the new Constitution provided more flexibility than the old one.

The new addition to the SUB, financed by student fees, opened Winter Quarter. The new addition more than doubled the size of the SUB, with the addition of two ballrooms, a large cafeteria, a new games room, new offices, and innumerable meeting rooms for the rapidly expanding number of Central students.

Tim Wing, ASC President, enjoys the comforts of Central's new home.

Central's Cheerleaders welcomed spectators and our athletic teams with glowing spirit and enthusiasm throughout the year. Their unlimited spirit was undoubtedly one of hard work, long hours of practice and determination to build CWSC students' spirit for their school.

U.N. discuss the general agenda of their meeting.

Model U.N.

Officers are: Nora Walsh, Chris O'Hearn and Susie Swedberg, Executives; Jane Connoughton, secretary; Kristine Docherty, treasurer; Buz Scott, secretary general of High School Model United Nations Conference.

Members are: William Bentler, Louise Aquino, Tom Lineam, Ken Bischoff, Janis Thomas, Ruth Liden, James Metzger, Bill Lacy and Paul Snow.

The purpose of Model U.N. is to promote international relations through better understanding of the United Nations. Their activities include a program for high school Model U.N. in the spring, participation at the Far West College Conference, a speaker program and Trick or Treat for UNICEF.

Union Board is the policy making body of the Samuelson Union Building. This board develops policies for the Union consistent with the educational program at the college. The board governs the operation and use of the building, prepares a schedule of charges for use of the Union facilities and serves in an advisory capacity to the director of the Union.

The board consists of ten persons: six of which are student members, four of which are faculty members.

Union Board

Seated: Pam Lind, Hazel Dunnington, Terry Marconi, Linda Rockey, Carol Wilkinson, Secretary.

I.K. is a service organization that assists with various activities on Central's campus.

Activities include the Miss CWSC pageant during Parents' weekend and a Playboy dance.

AWS

The purpose of AWS is to promote unity among women students, give them an active voice in things pertinent to students and the women of Central, and to sponsor speakers and programs for the benefit of Women Students at CWSC.

Associated Women Students activities included a Christmas Tolo, Scholarship Teas, leadership conference, speakers, programs of special interest to women, Santa Claus pictures and a spring formal.

Straight Arrow Athletic Club

Frank Fisher, Austin Cooper, Bob Hungate, Denny Hamilton.

Straight Arrow Athletic Club is a group of patriotic American students who are interested in the "American Way of Life", CWSC, school spirit, and other worthy objectives.

SAAC sponsored cheering sections at all sporting events as well as their 73rd and 74th Annual "Public Orgy and Library Fund" dance. Profits from the dance, $1,200, were given to the library.

Officers were Dick Rosage, Coach and Athletic Director (President), and Austin Cooper, Chaplain.

Black Students of Central

Conversation can be both delightful and serious at this BSC meeting.

In their second year of existence the Black Students of CWSC are engaging in projects considered to be in the interest of the Black community. Among other objectives of the group are the study of Black history and life, fostering the growth and assimilation of Black cultural contributions to society and aiding in the academic development of the student and the community.

They sponsor Black Week in the spring, which includes a dance, Soul Food dinner, a fashion show and speakers.

Kelly Angel Flight

Kelly Angel Flight is concerned with three main purposes: to assist the Air Force ROTC at CWSC, to act as a campus service organization, and to work with Arnold Air Society.

As a service organization the "Angel Girls" help with the annual college blood drive and go on visitations to nursing homes in our community.

Gary Robertson tries an "instructional technique" on the ILS Glide Scope Indicator for the Angel Flight girls.

Arnold Air Society

Arnold's Air Society's purpose is to aid in the development of effective Air Force Officers, to further the purpose, traditions, concepts of the Air Force, and to support Aerospace Power in its role in National Security.

This year their activities included the annual Military Ball, as well as a haunted house during Halloween, a Christmas party for underprivileged children, a ski week-end raffle, and a dinner raffle.

Officers were: Commander, Bruce Balbin; Vice Commander, John Kirry; Operations Officer, Jerome Tate; Administrative Officer, John Smith.

Lawrence Keller, Marcia Green, Scott Stiltner, Maren Green, Helen Carpenter.

Arnold Air Society and Kelly Angel Flight work side by side to cooperatively complete their projects. One such project is the annual Military Ball, a formal dance in the spring.

Orchesis, through its activities, attempts to stimulate interest in artistic and creative dance and to foster standards of performance, appreciation, and understanding of dance as an art form in the community. Attired in traditional black tights and silk stockings, the members performed their annual dance concert, "Orchesis '70."

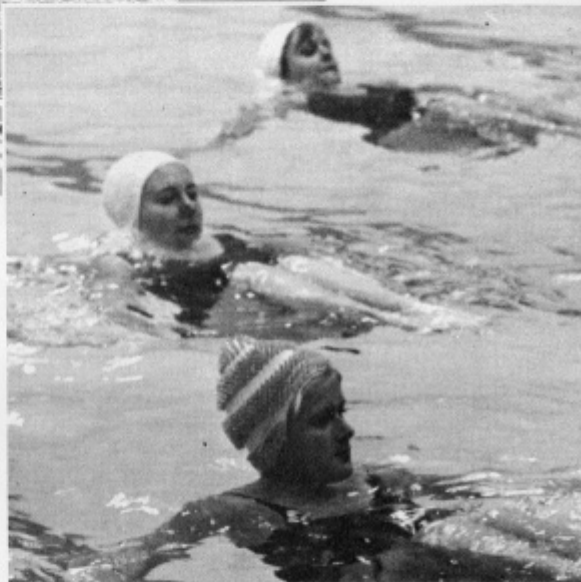

In the past years they have presented Dance Film Evening and sponsored the University of Utah Repertory Dance Theatre in concert. Advisor is Miss Lana Jo Taylor.

Crimson Corals

Graceful skill and practice is required of these lovely water mermaids to present their annual water show.

In order to improve personal skills and understanding of expression in an aquatic medium, the Crimson Corals practice weekly and sponsor high school and community club workshops. The members present annual water shows to promote interest in Aquatic Art on campus and in the community. Several of the members attended the International Aquatic Art Symposium in Eugene, Oregon, this spring and observed the professional performances of many outstanding swimmers.

Woods - Strings and Brass

Director, Bert Christianson

Under the direction of Bert Christianson, CWSC's band performs quarterly on stage for the public in concert on Central's campus.

In football season the band displays marching talents plus musical abilities by their pre-game and half-time performances. The marching band vigorously works out everyday before the home football games to entertain the fans.

Central's Symphony

Director, Dr. Charles Fuller

Regular Monday evening practices improve the musician's skills and abilities of the Central Symphony.

Central's Symphony provides a number of concerts during the year for the enjoyment of the community.

Sigma Mu Epsilon

Sigma Mu Epsilon is a music service honorary. They usher at musical events and recitals, sponsor Christmas Choral Competition, have an annual pops concert, sponsor receptions for students who put on a senior or graduate recital, and assist at receptions for juniors, sophomores and freshmen.

Activities included a week-end retreat at the Triple L guest ranch, participation in a pops concert featuring the Central Swingers and the Stage Band, and a bake sale to earn money for the retreat.

Swinging with hard hitting rock KCWS-AM, CWSC's campus radio station, moves ahead with its second year of broadcasting. Student-run and student-sponsored, KCWS may be heard only on the campus and in the residence halls, on the carrier current frequency of 880. Enjoying the new sound, students find the presence of the "powerfully bright medium brings to touch the dynamic dimensions of fast paced 'now' living."

KCWS-FM is a non-commercial educational radio station licensed to the Central Washington State College Board of Trustees. Serving Ellensburg and the Kittitas Valley, the all-student staff of KCWS-FM, 91.5 Mg., prepares and presents programming from the National Educational Radio Network, the Canadian Broadcasting Company, and their own specially prepared musical programs. All students working with KCWS-FM hold third class radio telephone operator's permits, and adhere rigidly to the standards of excellence required of modern radio broadcasting.

Karate Club

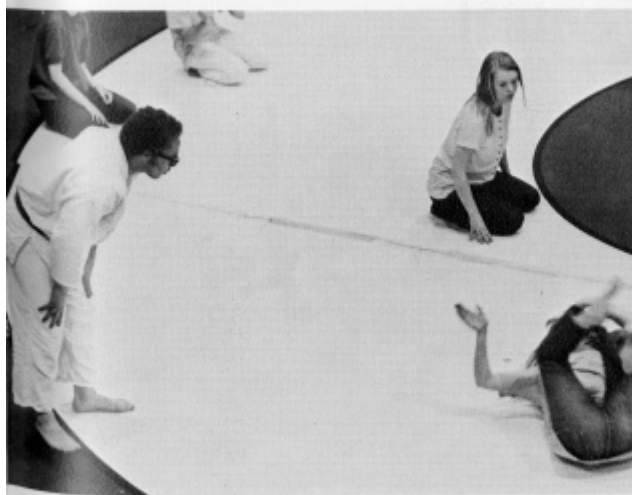

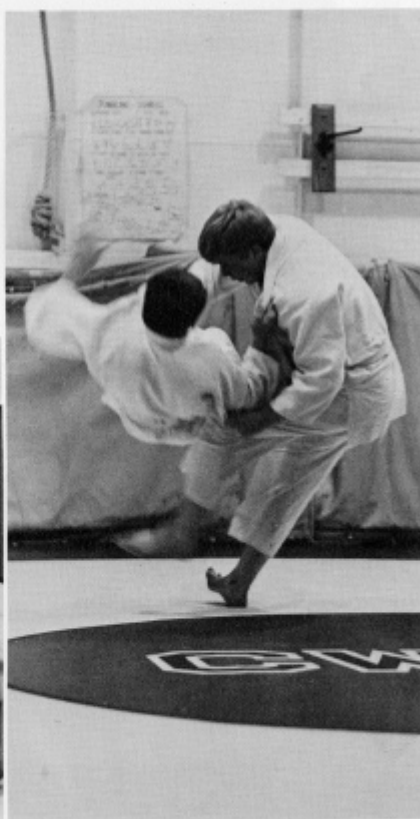

What karate is today was originally developed in the Orient as a martial art. It survived and spread throughout the Orient over the centuries to become a highly effective means of unarmed self-defense. As the science of karate developed, it also developed a philosophy within itself enabling men to realize more fully their potentialities both physical and spiritual. In this way karate, to the karate man, becomes a way of life. There is no secret or mystic power to karate. It is the hard work and effort that is put forth by the individual that develops him into the karate man. It is not only a highly effective means of unarmed self-defense but also an exciting, challenging sport enjoyed by enthusiasts throughout the world. It promotes self-confidence, sincerity, and sportsmanship. In short karate, in its truest sense, is a way of perfecting one's character. President of this year's club is Hal Mason.

Judo Club

Central Washington State College Judo Club fosters the spirit of competition between schools that is consistent with the purposes and objectives of CWSC athletics. The club also sponsors a team which is governed by the rules of the AAU for intercollegiate competition. The club is open to men and women students and faculty members of Central Washington State College, interested in mastering the oriental art of Judo.

Central

Dr. Hertz
Founder of
"The Central Singers"

Conductor, Dr. Wayne Hertz

C.W.S.C.'s 70-voice concert choir, The Central Singers, is under the direction of Dr. Wayne Hertz. Members of the choir are chosen through auditions and performances from the larger choir of more than 200 voices. This year's highlights have included performing Stravinsky's "Persephone" with the Seattle Symphony and a 6 day tour of British Columbia and Western Washington during winter quarter.

Dr. Hertz is known not only for his chairmanship of the department of music, but as a choral conductor, adjudicator, and authority in the field of music education. The assistant director of the choir is Professor E. Gordon Leavitt. He holds degrees from Central and Bob Jones University and was the 1954 president of the Central Singers.

This year's choir officers are: President, Don Tackett; Vice President, Orv McManus; Secretary, Linda Bustetter.

Student Activities Council is made up of the Social Vice Presidents and Social Commissioners for each dorm on campus, and representatives from off-campus. SAC meetings were directed under the leadership of ASC Social Vice President, Jim Delfel.

SAC's purpose is to seek communication between ASC and the students. Representatives to SAC find out what's happening on campus and relay the information back to their dorms. Representatives' opinions are often polled on big name entertainment, upcoming events, and college affairs. Representatives also serve on various SAC and ASC committees throughout the year.

Student Activities Council

RHS

Residence Hall Senate's purpose is to help with communication between dormitories and the ASC. RHS is involved with programming and researching new ideas for residence hall living and provides for some campus-wide experience and programs.

RHS activities included sponsoring the Fall Symposium, reviewing residence hall judicial boards, participating in the Pacific Coast Association of College and University Residence Hall Conference, an RHS dunking tank during Sweezy weekend, a banquet with the Ellensburg businessmen, and a banquet with the Board of Trustees to talk over their relationships with the students.

Amen Club

In response to a growing concern for environmental quality, AMEN (Avert Man's Extinction Now) was formed at CWSC in the fall of 1969. The organization's purpose, to collect and disseminate information concerning the implications of population growth, reflects the philosophy that the root of pollution problems is a rapidly expanding human population. AMEN has made application to become the Ellensburg chapter of Zero Population Growth Inc., a national organization whose express goal is to encourage two children families and thereby reduce the birth rate of the U.S. to zero by 1980. Activities include letter writing campaigns, informative programs, establishment of a data file, and participation in the national teach-in on environment. AMEN continues to work toward the increased awareness, concerned knowledge, and responsible action of the population regarding its future.

Who's Who In American Universities and Colleges

Twenty-one students were named to represent Central Washington State College in the 1969-70 edition of "Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges."

These students are rated and credited as being "superior young college men and women whose records indicate that each one might be an asset to a business, a corporation, a town, a state, or a nation."

These outstanding students were nominated by an anonymous committee composed of administrative officers, faculty members, and students on the basis of leadership qualities, academic excellence, and participation in extra-curricular activities.

Central had another outstanding season this year, although they did not win the Evergreen Conference title. Eastern and Western tied for the title, but the Wildcats were contenders until their last game, which they lost to Eastern 20-19. The 'Cats gained a total of 1663 yards rushing to their opponents' 1235 yards. Central had eleven players selected for the 1969 All-Evergreen Conference football team. They were: Dave Knapman, Dan Collins (NAIA All-American, '68), Larry Kain, Pat Pereira, Harvey Kochel, Greg Smith, Steve Stanley, Bob Ensley, Doug Makaiwi, John Craig, and Steve Hertling.

Harvey Kochel completed 69 passes for 1095 yards. Steve Hertling intercepted 6 passes and returned them for 111 yards, and returned 19 kick-offs for 227 yards.

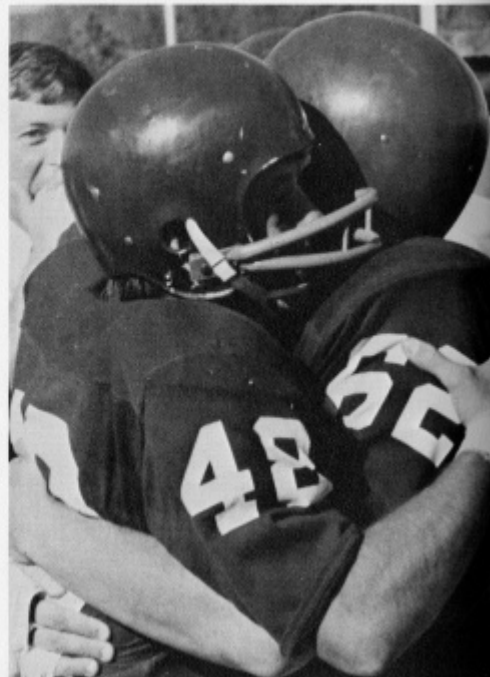

At the end of the season the team members voted Harvey Kochel team captain, John Craig as winner of the Inspirational Award, Pat Pereira as the best blocker, and Scott Seiler as the outstanding freshman.

Cross Country

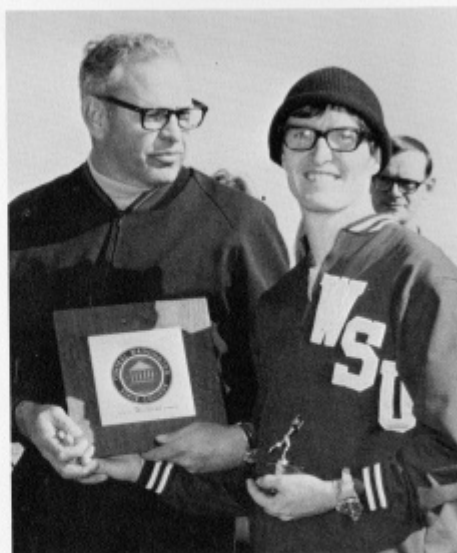

Coach Art Hutton's Cross Country team had a fine season. There were five returning lettermen (above left) Sam Ring, Dale Shea, Terry Kelley, Steve Camp, and Joe Blue. The team placed second in the Orange State Invitational, second to Whitworth in the EVCO meet, and again second in the NAIA District meet. The team will lose only Sam Ring next year, and should be very strong again.

Coach Stan Sorenson's J. V. basketball team finished the season with a 14 win, 5 loss record. This season has been one of the J. V.'s better seasons, playing against such teams as U. of W. Frosh and Seattle U. Frosh. Leading scorers were Jerry Westendorf, Jim May, Denny Ward, Jim Kardash. Others were Bill Henniger, Larry Bowers, Dave Hendrickson and Jim Born.

The season for the Central Washington Wrestling team was a hard-fought one, competing against the major colleges of the west coast. Four of the opposing teams were ranked in the top twelve in the nation.

Thurman Landers, Kenichi Kanno, Craig Skeesick, Ed Harris and Steve Smith went to Superior, Wisconsin, for the NAIA National Tournament. Thurman Landers wrestled his way to a National title and Central's fourth All-American wrestler in the 142 pound division. Kenichi Kanno finished third and just missed the final round. Ed Harris and Steve Smith lost after the first round, Craig Skeesick was out of the competition due to a broken hand. Overall, Central placed tenth out of 97 teams.

WILDCATS
NO 2 NAIA
NO 1 WITH US

Capping an undefeated conference season, the Wildcats still had to win a district playoff against Pacific Lutheran to make the trip to the NAIA basketball tournament at Kansas City in March. It was a near thing, with a one-point victory at PLU and a three-point win the next night on the home floor, but the Cats were on their way.

At Kansas City, the Wildcats lived up to their name and clawed their way to the finals, where they played Kentucky State on even terms until a cold shooting spell at the end left them at the short end of a 79-71 score. Still, they returned to Ellensburg as heroes—second in the nation and achievers of the best season record in Central history.

Distinguished Visiting Professors

The Distinguished Visiting Professor Program was established to give the campus and the community an opportunity to study with established scholars and laymen from other regions.

Robert Duncan, top, is a poet from Oakland, California. He came to Central fall quarter to lecture on the Ideas of Democracy and Humanities.

Teaching courses in political science was Sir Richard Allen, center, a historian and diplomat. Coming from Oxford, England, Allen was at Central winter quarter.

Winter quarter, Elizabeth Sewell, bottom, visited Central giving a series of lectures and teaching poetry. Born in India, she is a published poet and critic.

Students in the archeology class were lucky to find some artifacts nearby in the Kittitas Valley. These students were working on classifying and dating some recent findings.

Freshman classes were enjoyed in a very relaxed atmosphere in the new co-op dorms. This student was attending an Education 297 course lecture, one of several classes offered right in the dorm.

Students tutored each other in the English workshop.

Anderson Hall

SNAFU (Situation Normal All Fouled Up) was the theme for Anderson's Frosh Orientation week. The new ladies of Anderson were introduced to Central by attending a watermelon feed and participating in "early morning exercises". Anderson's freshmen also enjoyed a big-little sister luncheon and a formal candlelight initiation.

Also new to Anderson was head resident, Mrs. Winders. She proved to be both enthusiastic and helpful in bolstering dorm spirit.

Activities further into the year included a traditional summer birthday party, wing competition for Christmas decorations and a dorm private.

... And we met strange faces ...

Barto Hall

Barto started off the year with the election of officers contributing to the unique and total unity of the co-ed dorm. This unity was exemplified when at the Homecoming game, Barto carried home the Co-ed First Place trophy for sign competition.

Plans have begun for the traditional "Renb Night" which has been a smashing success in the past.

We at Barto try to consolidate an academic atmosphere with a social community, creating an air of friendship and respect that will last all year and for years to come.

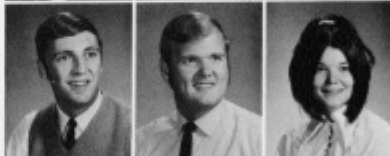

We made new friends...

Beck Hall

Beck Hall has always tried to complete the college education of its residents by encouraging a variety of learning experiences.

Throughout the year, various speakers, such as Don Tait of the Yakima Eagle, were brought in, highlighting some of the social issues of the day. Beck tried to host as many visitors to campus as possible, such as Georgia State Representative Julian Bond.

Beck kept socially active by sponsoring ice cream feeds, interdorm dances and a Winter-Spring private. Beck has traditionally been a top dorm in the G. P. A. ratings as well as being pioneers in bringing social changes to the campus.

... and we found a new way of living.

Buttons

Take twenty women, put them in six rooms in a little yellow building across from Smyser-Shaw, and you have Buttons Apartments. Now in its sixth year, Buttons provides off-campus privileges and privacy, with the benefits of on-campus facilities.

This year the girls of Buttons have been working on turning Buttons into co-ed living quarters.

Carmody Hall

This year the emphasis at Carmody was on a well-rounded educational experience. Activities for the year ranged from sensitivity sessions to having selected speakers brought into the dormitory. A square dance and steak feed was one of the main social events. Another highlight of the year was a geological expedition to Wheeler Canyon with appropriate refreshments provided by the dorm members.

Courson Hall

Courson started the year off with an outstanding orientation program that resulted in Diana Rennie being sent to an orientation convention in Detroit. This orientation welcomed 109 enthusiastic freshmen to their new home for the year. Christmas came with a tremendous dorm party. Gifts of "Courson stationery" were presented by the smallest Santa Claus ever, Cullen Christopher Burda, the son of head residents, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Burda.

The year ended happily with an all dorm banquet, barbecue, and street dance.

Davies Hall

Fall quarter began with many fun-filled activities for the freshman ladies of Davies. New Student Week included an exchange with Quigley Hall at Bledsoe's barn for a barbeque and dance. These were also sensitivity sessions which helped all the women become better acquainted.

Again this year the women of Davies sponsored an overseas orphan with gifts and money for her needs. The dorm store was again opened to provide evening snacks during study breaks.

This year's activities included a Halloween party for fun, and for the more athletically-minded, Women's Athletic Association intramural sports. Christmas Season brought with it "pixie" week which ended at the dorm's traditional Christmas party. The women also enjoyed guest speakers who spoke on a variety of topics of high interest.

Academically the women maintained a high GPA and worked toward building a dorm library.

We wandered through mountains of laughter . . .

We like to live . . .

Elwood's second decade of life as a men's cooperative living group was highlighted by the 10-year reunion of Elwood Manor, Inc., during Homecoming. Members of the founding class returned to Elwood to see what became of their dream.

Fall quarter gave Elwood their 10th win in 11 years for the Homecoming sign competition. Other activities included the Christmas Choral Competition, intramural sports, and rebuilding and recovering from last winter's "freeze-out."

Winter quarter featured the President's Ball which honored President and Mrs. James Brooks, the A.W.O.L. Dance, and Elwood's house private.

Spring quarter featured fun, sun, the annual crab feed, and the Faculty ice cream social.

Hitchcock Hall

"Here we are, now what" was the question during orientation this year. The highlight of this year's orientation was a Beck-Hitchcock hootenany featuring ASC President, Tim Wing, and other talented students.

Under the leadership of co-chairmen Gayle Underwood and Claudia Wade, Hitchcock girls put in a lot of hard work on their Homecoming sign, "A Giant Step Forward for the Wildcats." A sudden rain and wind storm brought the project to a rather sodden fate.

A pizza party, Pixie Week, and other activities added to the fun of this great year.

Jennie Moore Hall

"A new experience" proved quite true for the frosh as they walked through the doors of Jennie Moore Hall.

Throughout the entire week of student orientation, as well as throughout the entire year, the ladies of Moore continually enjoyed new friendships and activities. Some of this year's activities included CWSC Homecoming sign competition, Pixie week, a Christmas party and the Women's Athletic Association intramural sports.

Memories of the many activities that took place during the year will bring smiles to many faces, while the memories of friendships and intimacies will bring tears to the eyes of the girls at Jennie Moore.

Kamola Hall

Kamola girls gained new enthusiasm from living in the dorm with the newest interior and the oldest exterior. Clanking radiators, peeling paint and steaming pipes gave way to vinyl wall covering, wall-to-wall carpeting, quiet radiators and new draperies.

President Janine Pease and the ladies of Kamola continued in the tradition and spirit of Kamola. Homecoming and Parent's Weekend were met with decoration and enthusiasm. Winter quarter featured a dorm private. A new study and kitchen added to the already homey atmosphere of Kamola Hall.

Kennedy Hall

The men of Kennedy enjoyed energetic enthusiasm when their Freshmen won second place in the tug-of-war contest during orientation. This lively spirit was continued throughout the year. Visiting speakers proved to be an excellent form of educational communication. Guests included Don Tait of the Yakima Eagle during fall quarter.

Fall quarter came to a close with a winter blanket of snow and Christmas caroling; the caroling proved to be rather unique. Jennie Moore Ladies thrilled at the sound of several male voices booming through two large stereo speakers, during finals week by the way!

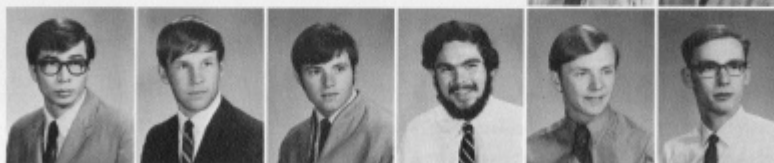

Activities for the rest of the year included several unscheduled fire drills, a donut feed with Jennie Moore, and an active dorm private.

Meisner Hall

Meisner's fall orientation gave freshman girls the opportunity to become acquainted with the campus, the administration, and the various professors. Social life was not overlooked as exchanges and events were planned to help the girls meet other people. Orientation week was concluded with a formal installation, an all dorm meeting with an ice cream social afterwards.

The ladies of Meisner have worked together to establish visitation hours and planned Halloween and Christmas events. Dorm elections took place at the end of Fall quarter and the new officers worked hard to plan a dance and spring private.

The ladies have worked hard to live up to the traditionally high academic standards.

In the Autumn of 69, "The Quarter," Munro Hall collectively organized the Munro Hall Bye Boys. When initiated, this organization formed the hub of all social, economic, and political activities of the dorm.

Fall quarter activities centered around the group-ins, the topic of discussion being the promiscuous behavior of affiliated non-member male housing facilities.

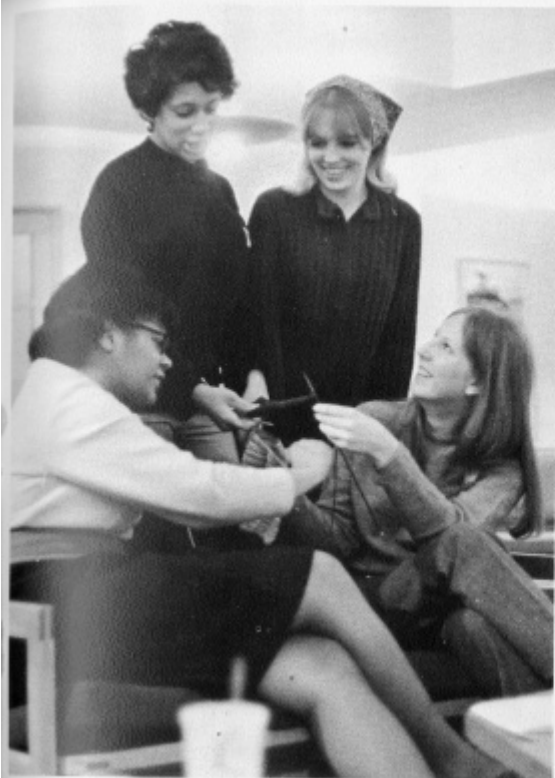

Winter quarter brought the first annual Wesson-oil party, sponsored jointly by the halls of Munro and Carmody.

Springtime activities consisted of Christmas in July, the first annual "Love your buddy" week, which, naturally centers around the theme "Love your buddy."

We have to 'cause we can't get out.

Munro Hall

Munson girls enjoy comfortable communication and relaxation in their lounge.

The ladies of Munson Hall began the 1969-70 academic year with the adoption of a liberal women's visitation policy. Visiting hours were extended from 12 noon to 3 a.m. daily.

Also new this year was the unique experience of being able to paint and decorate their rooms in any manner they wished.

Santa surprised everyone at the annual Christmas party by having a gift for each lady under the tree. Little did they know that Santa's gift came via their parents through letters of invitation.

The year was successfully ended during Sweezy Week-end by the presentation of the Mouse's Wiggle, organized by dorm president, Linda Rockey.

Muzzall Hall

"We shall remember Central Washington State College and we shall remember our home especially..."

This phrase is often said as seniors leave the campus for the last time after receiving a degree. Muzzall Hall was, to some of them, a home and they will most certainly remember it for the good times and the bad times they spent there.

Housing some 250 men, Muzzall has managed in the 1969-70 school year, to be rated number three on campus in scholarship, and achieved a certain unity that dorms find hard to obtain.

Under the leadership of Pat Wallace, acting president, Muzzall sponsored many social events, such as a pajama party, that proved that guidance is the key to a well functioning dormitory.

North Hall

Beginning the year with 85 freshmen, North's men adjusted to the problems of converting a girls' dormitory to a man's taste. The men of North can look back on a year of varied activities that highlighted their dorm closeness and individual interests.

The outstanding event of Frosh orientation was the winning of the tug-of-war contest. A pajama party with sister dorm Davies and a first rate MIA football team were the prominent fall quarter activities.

The year came to a satisfying close spring quarter with the annual auction and steak feed.

Quigley Hall

Quigley Hall, under the leadership of President Pat Sari, had a very active social calendar. This began with Freshman Orientation Week which was designed to get Freshmen into the swing of things. Freshmen first built a bridge over the Ganges and finished their swinging orientation by having a barbecue at Bledsoe's barn with Davies' Hall.

Other social events throughout the year were a pizza party, a Christmas party and an overnight ski party.

Under academics the dorm established study hours and submitted a team to compete in the College Bowl.

The dorm excelled in all MIA athletics, such as having a second place MIA football team.

Experience also led to discovery; and discovery to personal improvement.

Time for a study break.

To foster dorm spirit Sparks Hall initiated innovations to identify the men with the dorm. New student week was centered around the idea of the freshmen becoming aware of what the college community could offer him and how he could best achieve his objectives through it.

Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine's Day gave the men of Sparks a natural excuse for fun in the form of privates. House meetings were offset by dorm social events at which banana splits were the specialties of the day.

Fall quarter was highlighted by industrious work on a homecoming sign. Under able leadership the men of Sparks upheld their tradition of high academic standings and obtained honors benefiting the men and their home.

Stephens - Whitney

Stephens-Whitney Hall began its first year as a Co-Ed dorm by writing a new constitution and getting its visitation hours into effect.

Gary Larson, dorm president, led the dorm through a year of varied activities. First, their homecoming candidate, Nancy Reed, was elected into the Queen's Court, and their sign, "Touch down on the Moon," took second place in the Co-Ed division.

Fall quarter's activities included the beginning of a dorm speaker program, a dance-hootenanny private, and weekly Co-Ed volleyball games.

During winter quarter, the men and women of Stephens-Whitney sponsored the traditional Las Vegas Night in conjunction with Sue Lombard Hall. The evening was a big success, with gambling, strippers, a floor show and a dance all under a "Roaring 20's" atmosphere.

A steak feed during spring quarter was the conclusion to the eventful year.

Student Village Women's Co-op

Under able leadership, the Women's Co-Op combined new activities with the traditional to make the year a fun and rewarding one.

A living and learning program for future teachers was initiated in the Co-Op complex. The learning concept involved a new approach to teacher education stressing early teaching experiences. Students held classes in the dormitory and learned by living and working together as they did a majority of their own janitorial work and had their own food facilities.

Co-Op women participated in campus social events such as homecoming by preparing a giant sign to honor the occasion.

Knowledge was necessary for the senses to identify, and education was the answer.

The Student Village Men's Co-Op had a most successful year, achieving both academic and social status in furthering their "Living And Learning" Experience. The Dorm was presented, during Orientation Week by Dean Wise, the Dean's Scholastic Award Trophy, which was obtained by last year's Co-Opers. This year the Co-Opers stayed with such a tradition by having the highest academic standing record for Fall Quarter '69. Through hard and constant work, the men of the Men's Co-Op attained excellent performance in academics, social enlightenment, and experienced life in a broader scope.

Student Village Co-ed.

The members of the Student Village Co-Ed have been concerned with the major problem of furnishing a new residence hall with recreational equipment. The hall now has two color televisions, a ping-pong table, two pool tables, three portable sewing machines and miscellaneous sports equipment. Concentration has now switched toward the procurement of educational materials for the dorm library.

The Co-Ed private was a very successful steak barbecue and dance, and similar events were held winter and spring quarters.

The Co-Ed had a small but outstanding nucleus that returned from its first year. This group, with the help of new students, has put the Co-Ed in an outstanding position for its second year.

With the help and support of all its members, the Student Village Co-Ed continued to develop into the outstanding residence hall it was designed to be.

We had to prepare for a new world and a different way of thinking.

Sue Lombard Hall

Memories are made of this.

Sue Lombard may look sedate and stoic on its hard, red brick exterior, but inside things are constantly hopping. Fall quarter, the freshman girls started off a rousing year by taking first place in the Frosh Tug-of-War. But they weren't content until they also won first place in the sign competition for Homecoming.

The many activities within the dorm helped to make the time more bearable. For Halloween the girls had a costume party with lots of activity, and at Christmas time the girls participated in the choral competition.

Las Vegas Night was the biggest project for Sue as the girls worked with Stephens-Whitney. This was one of the first events to be held in the new SUB in January. During spring quarter the girls had their annual private. The year's activities were completed with the selection of two girls for the Nellie Allen Scholarships.

Wilson Hall

Wilson Hall began the year with an active Orientation Week, climaxed by a formal installation. Under the leadership of Kathy Harvey, dorm president, the ladies of Wilson sponsored a series of speakers and initiated the dorm's first visitation policy.

The Christmas holidays were celebrated with Pixie Week, caroling and the traditional Christmas party.

Winter quarter found the ladies of Wilson industriously planning a private and sponsoring a dance.

The annual installation banquet was held spring quarter for the new dorm officers.

Off Campus Life

Some say that off campus life is wacky, wild, and wonderful; and it is! Perhaps the off campus men and women can recall some of these things?

moving in brooms, mops, and dustpans grocery shopping leak stopping floors full of sleeping guests lights off at six A.M. midnight food trips
bills, bills, bills and no heat tonight
a can of cold beans warm parties
beer, wine, and the bathroom line dishes, dishes, dishes moving out

The job was to meet the challenge . . .
